Dear Vlad,

Thank you for inviting me to celebrate your birthday on February de 2nd. I'm so glad to tell you that my HR recruiter accepted my request to skip work in that period and that I will surely come to your birthday.

Must admit, I haven't seen you in a long while, and that I'll be thrilled to meet our high-school colleagues again. By the way, I bought you a present you won't forget, so stay tuned for a big surprise.

Unfortunately, I couldn't find a plane that brings me in time, so I'll be a bit late (about an hour or two) on my arrival.

P.S: Please save some cake for me, will you?

Take care,

Darius
